Dear Peter,

Well Peter...I told the committee we needed to BRING THE FUN and you made it a reality! The idea of having a two-hour musical act would have just brought the festivities to a screeching halt. Your set served as an entertaining and lively alternative. People were able to get back outside, dancing in the streets in their tuxes and gowns (I missed seeing you get your groove thing on...do you still have a groove thing?). The time you took to familiarize yourself with the area paid dividends. It added to people's comfort level, as they were no longer laughing at a stranger but with a sense of shared knowledge. As I was occupied with making sure the next acts were ready to go outside, I stayed in the back of the theatre. At one point, I actually pumped my fist with glee as I was washed over with the sounds of laughter poring into the back of the theatre.

I steered the Gala in a certain direction and your encyclopedic comic act made it happen...YOU BROUGHT THE FUN! It was a lovely event and I hope you enjoyed yourself as much as we enjoyed you. If your travels bring you to Boiling Springs stop in to see me...I'll introduce you to a living and breathing "Bubbler"!

Thank you,

To Whom It May Concern:

Peter Fogel was the headliner for the 9th Annual Stand Up And Count Down New Year's Eve Celebration at Seven Angels Theatre this past December. We truly enjoyed having him here for two great performances, and would not hesitate to recommend him to any group looking for a comedian who knows how to cater to all types of audiences.

The crowds at the shows were quite different, but Mr. Fogel was able to play to the strengths of both the early group and the later one. He had obviously "done his homework," as he was able to make jokes about our area, and the people here. However, his act was funny and accessible to all ages. He was not off-putting or off-color, which we felt was important. In addition, as patrons exited the theatre, I overheard many positive and happy comments about his performance.

Mr. Fogel was very easy to work with. Everyone from our technical and production staff to our management crew enjoyed the time we spent with him, and Seven Angels would gladly have him here again in the future. We wish him every good fortune.

Sincerely,

To Whom it may Concern:

I would like to recommend comedian, Peter J. Fogel for your next social event. Peter was one of the comedians at our Holiday Party this year and was instrumental in making our party the best one we have ever had.

I provided Peter with notes on some of the principals of our firm and he was able to use that information in a way that was very funny and enjoyable for all of the guests at the party. We never laughed so hard or so long!

Very truly yours,

Dear Peter,

I am writing as a follow up to thank you for the show you put on for our latest Town Hall meeting held last week at the Signature Grand. Kudos to a show well done! Your impromptu style of supermarket humor was well received and helped us kick off a corporate meeting that was ultimately a great success. Again, we want to thank you for the encore – as the audience could not get enough of your enthusiasm. We would recommend services to any corporation with an emphasis on exhilarating its staff. Thanks again, and we look forward to working with you again in the near future.

Dear Peter:

Thanks again for acting as Master of Ceremonies for our annual Engineering Excellence Awards Dinner. We've received many positive comments about your comedy and your presentation. It added a tremendous boost to our event and made the evening a very special one for all of us.

I know it wasn't easy to bring a light touch to engineering projects, but you managed to make everyone laugh without belittling anyone's work or hurting anyone's feelings.

Once again, great work!

Dear Peter,

Thank you for the splendid performance you gave us at our Second Annual CPR+ User Conference. I imagine not many speaker/comedians could find the humor in the "home infusion industry", but you did. Your customized comedy was definitely needed, as it added a lift to our conference. I received positive feedback from a lot of participants who really enjoyed your show. Thanks so much.

Advertising Works

May 27, 2005

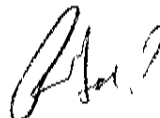

Dear Peter,

Kudos on the presentation you gave the other day at The Marketing Group.

Yes, I totally agree. Giving speeches and presentations should be an integral part of every business marketing plan in acquiring new clients. More importantly, you showed us that you should never bore your audience and a great way to do that is to weave humor throughout the speech.

I appreciated the specific techniques you showed us, plus how and why they worked. You're right, "if they're laughing, their listening." Thanks again.

Cordially,

Ron Gold

Dear Mr. Fogel,

I just wanted to send this note and say it was a pleasure hearing your speech: How To Mesmerize Your Audience With Humor In Every Speech You Give! Outstanding content, PLUS, you were very entertaining. I've been giving speeches/presentations to prospective clients for a while now and I know better than anyone how important it is to keep them "awake." Your background as a copywriter and marketing consultant, plus the humorous stories you told were right on target! As the late great adman David Ogilvy once said, "Tell the truth... but do it in an interesting way." You did that and then some. Very funny! Thanks again.

Warm regards,
